ICMIF AMERICAS CONFERENCE 2025 MEMBER SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

This year's ICMIF Americas Conference will be held from 27-29 August 2025 in San José (Costa Rica). The Conference will offer a unique possibility for CEOs, senior management, and employees of the mutual and cooperative insurance community from the Americas to meet and exchange knowledge and best practice on how to deliver insurance to consumers in an ever-changing world.

The overarching theme of the Conference is Rooted Resilience and the agenda will showcase some best practices of how our members from North and South America are staying true to their values and their purpose of ensuring their own and their members' long-term sustainability in the midst of the current economic, environmental or social disorders. Delegates will also be given the opportunity to engage with regulators and examine digital transformation's far-reaching effects on insurance.

Sponsorship opportunities are available to any ICMIF member wishing to show their leadership and solidarity with the cooperative and mutual insurer community in the Americas.
